TRIAL LAWYERS

NEWS BRIEF

Raynes & Lawn proudly congratulates Brenda Harkavy on her selection by The Legal Intelligencer as a "Lawyer on the Fast Track." This recognition is only given to attorneys under the age of 40 who have demonstrated excellence in four categories: development of the law; advocacy and community contributions; service to the bar; and peer and public recognition. Brenda was only one of 34 attorneys in the states of Pennsylvania and Delaware selected for the honor.

Brenda's legal acumen, and her dedication and commitment to her clients have rightfully earned her this recognition of which she and the firm are quite proud.

2400 Market Street

Located along the banks of the Schuylkill River, 2400 Market Street fuses innovation and industrialism. Once known as The Market Place Design Center, and well before that the Hudson Motor Car Company’s fabrication plant, the building was completely rebuilt in 2018. Today it is a beautiful, contemporary building that blends cutting edge technology with brick and concrete walls, columns and ceilings. From the moment you walk through our doors, you’ll be greeted by expansive river views and an open-air workspace, setting the stage for a dynamic environment. Here, amidst the vibrant pulse of Market Street, we are poised for growth, collaboration, and excellence. Welcome to our new home, where the waters of the Schuylkill River serve as a backdrop to our future of serving clients and partners. FIRM NEWS

Client Story:

Two years ago, four members of Yeadon Borough Council fired Police Chief Anthony Paparo. Their motive was racial: they wanted a black Chief to lead the department and Paparo is white. No matter that Chief Paparo had reduced crime, developed police community programs and activities, and made Yeadon a safe place in which to live and work. No matter that Chief Paparo was a beloved member of the Yeadon community. The only way the four Council members could achieve their goal was to act as judge, jury and prosecutor. And so, on February 17, 2022, they fired Chief Paparo. Not content with that result, they spent much of the succeeding two years publicly maligning Chief Paparo, a campaign that rendered him unemployable and tarnished his 30 plus-year career and reputation as a highly respected law enforcement officer.

Our firm took on Chief Paparo’s case in court with the kind of tenacious advocacy that stood in sharp contrast to the defendants’ belligerence. After months of discovery, Judge Baylson, the federal Judge assigned the case, denied the defendants’ motions for summary judgment and greenlighted the case for trial. As trial loomed, the defendants agreed to a settlement. It was for $2.5 million.

To the lawyers who spent the last two years representing Chief Paparo – Harold I. Goodman and Noah J. Goodman – and their staff – Mark Merlino and Regina McDonough – our thanks and congratulations for a job well done.
